INTRODUCTION

Write your name into the Sloane history books!

As a tent camp you'd think we have very few buildings on our campus. Nothing could be further from the truth. There are over 80 buildings on the property. Many have been named after former CEOs of the camp like the Burr Performing Arts Building (A.K.A.: the P.A.B.) and Ferguson lodge. Many though only have an address (e.g. "Building 37"). We want to give these buildings a name, your name!

We have identified ten buildings which lack an official title and are in need of renovation. Here is where you come in. With a generous donation from you, we would be able to renovate a building of your choosing and name it after you (or someone else, for that matter). Part of your donation would be put in a building fund which would help maintain the building for the future thus keeping your name on the building for decades to come.

You may ask, "who stays in these buildings?" Some of the most vital staff on our roster stay in these cabins: the Dining Services staff who work for hours in the hot kitchen serving three meals a day to our staff and campers, the maintenance crew who make sure that everything is clean and in working order so that all may enjoy their time at camp and also our area directors who run our aquatics, boating, athletics, creative arts and adventure programs. We also have two program area buildings requiring building renovations, building #44 (the barn) and building #2 (the library).

While many of the pictures in this book show buildings which, on the surface, look in fine repair, the truth is they all need a great deal of work. Some of the work required is easy to see, a new roof or an exterior paint job for example, but much of the work the buildings need is often unseen, or not noticeable from the outside, such as electrical upgrades, updating of fixtures and even new camp proof furniture. With your help, we could show these vital staff that we appreciate them by giving them an updated and newly renovated place to hang their hat at the end of many a long day working at camp.

Each sponsored building would be marked with a large name plaque and referred to on camp maps and in literature by its new name. This will cement the new building name into the camp lexicon. If you'd like to see our first cabin to be sponsored and completed in this program, the Fagal Cabin, please call to arrange a tour.

What is a Vermont Welcome Mat?

Many of the buildings listed will be getting a stoop equipped with a "Vermont Welcome Mat." A Vermont welcome mat is a metal grate which allows dirt and detritus to be released from shoes with a quick stamping of the feet. The grate is open at the bottom allowing said dirt and detritus to fall through to the ground which helps save the interior floor of the cabin. Here's a picture of the one we installed at our first cabin renovated under this program, the Fagal Cabin:

BUILDING #75 'FAGAL CABIN' COMPLETED

Building #75 was brought to Sloane intact in 1977. It is a single story cabin which can house four people. It has a bathroom, two bedrooms and a hot water heater. Building #75, now officially named "The Fagal Cabin," is named for the Fagal Family which has had a long association with Sloane. Brother and sister, Fred Fagal and Janet "Jeffy" (Fagal) Benedict both attended camp, were staff members and most recently, Jeffy served on the board of Camp Sloane. Both Fred and Jeffy's children were Sloane campers and staff. The donation to renovate this building is a gift of Jeffy (Fagal) Benedict and Jim Benedict.
